Welcome MESSAGE

Welcome

Dear Student,

On behalf of Eötvös Loránd University, I am pleased to welcome you amongst over 3,500 international students who choose our university as their higher education institution each year. It is my strong belief that you have made an excellent decision by entrusting ELTE with preparing you for your professional future.

You have just been admitted to one of the best universities in Europe and the most prestigious higher education institution in Hungary. I am confident that the drive and dedication that helped you to achieve this will govern you in your academic studies, and you will find numerous opportunities to broaden your horizon, both in the classroom and beyond.

It is a great source of pride for my colleagues and me to have students from over 100 countries studying at ELTE. At the same time, it is an immense opportunity for all our university citizens to form lasting friendships and bonds in this wonderfully diverse community.

This booklet aims to assist you in every step of the way – at least during your first weeks and months – so that Hungary becomes a second home to you. Here, you will find general information about ELTE, an overview of your rights and administrative obligations, as well as extra-curricular possibilities ELTE offers you throughout the academic year. Apart from that, the brochure contains a lot of additional information on Hungary, Hungarian culture, entertainment opportunities, etc. I can assure you that both the university staff and your fellow students will be happy to help you during your stay.

I hope you will find at ELTE everything you are looking for in a university, and you will look back on the years you have spent here with delight and satisfaction.

I wish you a successful and fruitful academic year at ELTE.

Prof. Dr. Imre HAMAR
Vice-Rector for International Affairs

International STUDENT AMBASSADORS

An from Vietnam, International Business Economics BA

ELTE facilitates a cooperative environment that enables me to team up with others when tackling a problem. Coming from various parts of the world, my classmates bring to the table various viewpoints about international business issues. Because of this, I can easily relate to and find practical solutions with them while exploring new ideas from others.

Heemanshu from India, Chemistry MSc

Life is amazing here. Every kind of facility is available in the city, from a 24/7 library to all kinds of sports, from thermal baths to many cafés and restaurants. Budapest has exquisite architecture, there are many fountains, a range of large parks, and all the necessary facilities (such as banks, hospitals, etc.) are readily available.

Hilal from Turkey, Psychology MA

ELTE has a great number of professors and staff members to support students during their academic journey. An ELTE student can easily look for social and psychological support from several counsellors and mentors, and academic support from lots of foundations, funding for exchange studies and academic trips, and academic support from supervisors and peers.

Wijdene from Tunisia, Doctoral School of Linguistics

Located in one of the most beautiful and scenic cities in Europe, ELTE ought to be a number one choice for any newcomer. The cosmopolitan and diverse university atmosphere ensures that all its members get the best out of their university experience. The wide range of programmes offered provides students with enriching and valuable academic input and incites promising output.

Are you having a great time at ELTE? Would you like to share it with prospective students of the university? Become an International Student Ambassador at ELTE.

International Student Ambassadors are the faces of the university. They are international students at ELTE who share their experiences about their studies with prospective students of ELTE. They participate in the promotional activities of the university, share their advice in printed brochures, on online platforms (e.g. university website, social media) and during various events, and they also submit content for the international Instagram account of ELTE (elteinternational). Additionally, they have the opportunity to improve their organisational and presentation skills and take part in group discussions and workshops organised specifically for them. Not to mention that it looks great on their CVs, as well. Students can become International Student Ambassadors for one or more academic years. Anyone can apply who is currently enrolled as a student in the second/third/fourth year of any degree programme at ELTE. Application period: the beginning of each academic year.

At the end of the academic year, the participants receive a certificate confirming their participation in the programme.

Check out the former International Student Ambassadors of ELTE and what they say about the university here: <https://www.elte.hu/en/international-student-ambassadors>.

We hope to see you soon among our Ambassadors.

Academic system

AT ELTE

ELTE is an internationally recognised higher education institution, and its programmes are accredited by the Hungarian Accreditation Board. The degrees issued by Eötvös Loránd University are acknowledged worldwide, and its course credits are transferable in all countries in the European Union.

Eötvös Loránd University, and the Hungarian higher education in general, takes part in the Bologna Process. Accordingly, the consecutive training cycles of the higher education leading to a higher education degree are alapképzés (Bachelor programme), mesterképzés (Master programme) and doktori képzés (Doctoral programme). Bachelor and Master courses are taught in consecutive cycles, in the form of divided training, or in cases specified by law in the form of undivided, one-tier training.

Structure of Studies

Students studying in Bachelor and Master programmes complete their studies by passing a final examination. The final examination may consist of the defence of the Bachelor's or Master's thesis, and additional oral, written or practical examinations.

First/Second Degree (Two-Tier) Programmes

The first higher education degree is alapképzés (Bachelor's degree) along with a professional qualification. A Bachelor's programme requires gaining 180-240 credits. The length of the programme is 6-8 semesters.

The second higher education degree is mesterképzés (Master's degree) along with a professional qualification. The Master's programme is built on a Bachelor's programme; i.e., you need to have a Bachelor's degree to start a Master's programme, which requires gaining 60-120 credits. The length of the programme is 2-4 semesters.

Integrated "Long" (One-tier) Programmes

An undivided one-tier programme resulting in mesterfokozat (Master's degree) is a training with the length of 10-12 semesters, requiring the completion of 300-360 credits. Besides religious education and some programmes of arts, the following programmes are offered within one-tier Master's courses: veterinary medicine, architecture, dentistry, pharmaceuticals, law and medicine, teacher training.

Doctoral Programme

Built on a Master's programme and a Master degree, the doktori képzés (Doctoral programme) requires gaining at least 240 credits. From September 2016, the length of the programme is 8 semesters (4 years). Following a Doctoral programme, in a separate degree awarding procedure, the academic degree "Doctor of Philosophy" (abbreviation: PhD), or in art education "Doctor of Liberal Arts" (abbreviation: DLA) may be awarded.

ECTS Credit System AND GRADING

The Hungarian academic credit system in line with the Hungarian law is an ECTS-compatible system. The calculation of the credits is based on the number of academic hours completed by the students (one credit equals 30 academic hours on average).

At the end of the semester, the assessment of knowledge is generally carried out according to a five-grade scale: excellent (5), good (4), satisfactory (3), pass (2), and fail (1); a three-grade scale: excellent (Exc - 5), average (Av - 3), unsatisfactory (1) or a two-grade scale: completed (5), not completed (1).

The ECTS conversion table ensures transfer procedures between the Hungarian academic credit system and the ECTS. The recognition of courses completed abroad is based on the credit transfer regulation. For incoming international students, a Transcript of Records is issued at the end of the semester, which contains the code and title of the completed courses, credits, grades, and the ECTS-compatible grades.

System of Assessment: ECTS Conversation Table

ELTE grades	Equivalent ECTS grades
5 (excellent)	A, B (excellent, very good)
4 (good)	C (good)
3 (satisfactory)	D (satisfactory)
2 (pass)	E (sufficient)
1 (fail)	FX, F (fail)

- 1 full academic year = 60 credits
- 1 semester = 30 credits

International STUDENTS AT ELTE

Each semester, over 3000 international students from more than 80 different countries study at ELTE.

“Full degree” Bachelor, Master or PhD students undertake their entire studies here. In addition to self-funded students, Hungarian governmental scholarship holders (Stipendium Hungaricum, the Scholarship Programme for Christian Young People and Hungarian Diaspora Scholarship) also obtain their degrees at ELTE.

Erasmus+ students come from a European university with whom ELTE has an Inter-Institutional Agreement for a study period of one or two semesters.

Erasmus+ international credit mobility students come from non-EU universities with whom ELTE has a bilateral exchange agreement for a study period of one or two semesters.

Further incoming mobility students study at ELTE for one or two semesters within the framework of institutional bilateral agreements, via the membership of ELTE in university networks, or further (mainly governmental) scholarship programmes (e.g. CEEPUS, Hungarian State Scholarships, Visegrad Fund).

About Hungarian Governmental SCHOLARSHIPS

HUNGARIAN GOVERNMENTAL SCHOLARSHIP

Stipendium Hungaricum (partial studies are also available)

Stipendium Hungaricum, funded in 2013, is the most prestigious Hungarian higher educational scholarship programme, which offers a wide range of courses for international students with excellent academic track records. The scholarship aims to support the internationalisation of Hungarian higher education and its constant development, to strengthen the international relations of the academic and research community, as well as to promote the good reputation and competitiveness of Hungarian higher education all over the world.

It is based on bilateral education agreements between Hungary and the governments of the sending countries, and is already available on five continents in almost 100 countries and territories, attracting more than 50,000 international students each year worldwide. ELTE is expecting to welcome approx. 750-800 students from them, starting in the academic year of 2022/2023. This means that approx. 2,000 Stipendium Hungaricum students will be studying here, which is, 5% of the whole community and 50% of international students.

STIPENDIUM
HUNGARICUM

Scholarship for Christian Young People

The Scholarship Programme for Christian Young People (SCYP) was founded in 2017. The core mission of the SCYP is to provide opportunities to pursue higher education studies in Hungarian host institutions for young Christians living in crisis regions of the world or being persecuted in their countries because of their faith.

After completing their studies, the scholarship holders can become the catalysts of the development of their countries and contribute to building capacities and strengthening resilience at the local level with their knowledge acquired in Hungary upon return to their homelands.

About 300 students are studying or will soon study in the framework of the Programme country-wide from nine different countries: Syria, Pakistan, Iraq, Israel and Palestine, Lebanon, Nigeria, Kenya, Ethiopia, and Armenia. From the academic year of 2022/2023 on, ELTE is expected to have more than twenty students with SCYP, which makes nearly 10% of the country's quota.

More information: <https://www.elte.hu/en/current-students/christian-young-people> and <https://hungaryhelps.gov.hu/about-the-programme/>.

HUNGARY HELPS

Hungarian Diaspora Scholarship

The Hungarian Diaspora Scholarship was established for those who live in a Hungarian diaspora outside Europe and wish to study at a Hungarian higher education institution to develop their personal, professional, and cultural relations with Hungary.

The programme aims to support the professional advancement of the scholarship holders with high-quality Hungarian higher education in addition to improving their Hungarian language skills and strengthening their Hungarian identity. After graduation, scholarship holders will return to their home country with competitive skills and knowledge that will enable them to support their community, preserve Hungarian values, and reinforce the relations between the diaspora and Hungary.

ELTE welcomed the first Diaspora scholarship holder student last year and will host several new students in the upcoming academic year.

If you are a student from a non-EEA country, you need to obtain a residence permit for the purpose of study. You need to submit the residence permit application form at the Hungarian Consulate or at other locations authorised to issue residence or nationality permit. It is strongly advised to apply for the residence permit for the purpose of study in your home country approximately one month before arriving in Hungary. With this procedure, you are also applying for the residence permit visa (D-visa) which allows you to enter Hungary only once and stay for 30 days before receiving your residence permit.

In the case of border crossing by air, you might need an equity request in addition to your visa to enter Hungary due to the regulations concerning the coronavirus pandemic. You can learn more about the entry regulations that apply to you here: <https://www.elte.hu/en/visa-procedure>.

Libraries

University Library and Archives

The University Library (<https://konyvtar.elte.hu/en>) was founded in 1561 by the Jesuit order; it is one of the oldest libraries in the country, which was opened to the public in 1876. Until 1949, its collection interest covered works from all disciplines taught at the university, later it was limited to philosophy, medieval and early modern history, as well as religion and the history of religion. Since then, the library has a nation-wide responsibility for the collection of publications in these fields. The historical collection, as part of the National Cultural Heritage of Hungary, includes 185 codices, 1,200 incunabula, 11,000 works from the 16th, 15,000 from the 17th, and 75,000 from the 18th century.

Registration is free for all employees and students of ELTE and the Student Identity Card can be used as a library card. Our ELTE Library WebApp is a web application optimised for smart phones. The application substitutes for the paper-based library card and also offers a number of additional features.

In addition to the traditional library services, the Library provides access to e-books, e-journals, and databases and, if licences allow, they are made available for the students of ELTE also from home.

Courses in database management, literature searching, publishing, and library use are organised regularly with the aim of fostering the independent use of library services and information resources, as well as basic research activities. The Library supports open access publishing by aiding submission of articles to open access journals and enhancing self-archiving. The portal of the University Library Service (ULS) (eltekonyvtarak.elte.hu/en), based on the cooperation of the network of libraries, offers full-scale information on all the libraries of the eight ELTE faculties. The OPAC (opac.elte.hu) contains records of almost 1.5 million copies of documents, such as books, journals, special and electronic documents, and dissertations found at the University Library and other libraries belonging to the ELTE network.

Other libraries in Budapest:

It is worth taking the opportunity and visiting some imposing libraries across Budapest:

It is located in the rear wing of the Royal Palace, facing Buda. It is a national library, the biggest collection including some surviving books of King Matthias, the legendary king of the Renaissance. (Their name is “Corvina”, as the heraldic animal of the king was the raven, called ‘corvus’ in Latin.)
- ✓ Library of the Parliament – www.ogyk.hu
The House of the Hungarian Parliament established the library at the end of the 1860s. In 1902 the library moved to the newly built Parliament on the bank of Danube. It only became a public collection in 1952; until that time, access was permitted only to institutions and professionals.
- ✓ Library and Information Centre of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences – https://konyvtar.mta.hu/index_en.php
It is a special national research library. Since its foundation in 1826, it has dedicated itself to supporting scientific and scholarly research and safeguarding its precious collections.
- ✓ Metropolitan Ervin Szabó Library – www.fszek.hu
It is located in a magnificent neo-Baroque palace completed in 1889, as well as in a new wing – presently one of the most interesting library interiors of Europe. The café is found in the former stables.
- ✓ National Library of Foreign Language – www.oik.hu
Originally built for Young Men’s Christian Association (YMCA), a Russian language-library was opened in 1956 under the name of “Gorky Library”, which later started to collect other foreign language items, as well. Founded by George Soros in June 1992, the CEU Library is located in the heart of downtown Budapest.

IT SUPPORT

WIFI at ELTE

All ELTE campuses offer free WIFI access to ELTE students. To access the Campus WIFI, you need to register on "IIG". As a first step, open this in the browser: ugykezelo.elte.hu/ and click on "Belépés" below ("belépés" means "login"). Select authentication via Neptun by clicking on the Neptun icon in the top right corner, then type your Neptun ID, your password, then log in. Now you can choose your own IIG username (which is "Választott IIG Azonosító"). Choose wisely, because your IIG username will be the forepart of your e-mail address at ELTE. Choose your password and type it in at the section "Választott IIG Jelszó" ("Chosen IIG password") and the same password at "Választott IIG Jelszó Megerősítés" ("Validating your chosen IIG password").

At the bottom of the page, there is a sentence "Kérem a WIFI azonosító létrehozását is" (which means: "I would like to create a WIFI identifier too") and a box beside this sentence. Tick the box and then click "Ilgénylés" ("Application"). You will be redirected to a page where the system confirms your request and your IIG identifier is ready. If you have any further questions, visit this website (<https://iig.elte.hu/en>) or send an e-mail to the following address: operator@elte.hu.

Mentoring SYSTEM

Eötvös Loránd University offers a targeted student mentoring programme system to all incoming students who would like to have personal mentoring before arrival and/or during their stay in Budapest.

Mentors help international students with everyday problems, and they guide students through their international experience during their stay at ELTE in Budapest. They are enthusiastic, open-minded, and helpful ELTE students. International students can turn to their mentors for help any time they need it. Mentors will be there to support international students during their first steps in Hungary and at the university in issues, such as university administration, as well as finding a flat or room, the best pubs, shops, restaurants, etc. There are mentors working at each ELTE faculty, so international students can turn to their mentors with faculty-specific questions as well.

There are two main mentoring systems at ELTE:

Erasmus Student Network (ESN) ELTE offers mentors to all incoming exchange students and organises activities to all international students.

Stipendium Hungaricum Mentor Network (SHMN) offers mentors to ELTE students with a Stipendium Hungaricum scholarship.

Erasmus Student Network (ESN) is one of the biggest interdisciplinary student associations in Europe. It was legally registered in 1990 for supporting and developing student exchange. It is present in more than 500 higher education institutions from 40 countries, and the network is constantly developing and expanding. It has around 13,500 active members in many sections supported by so-called mentors or buddies mainly taking care of international students. Thus, ESN involves in total around 29,000 young people offering their services to around 180,000 international students every year.

ESN ELTE is also a part of this international community. Both their programmes and the mentor system aims to help the integration of incoming students.

The local section, ESN ELTE, works on behalf of international students. Besides representing the rights of students having a scholarship at our university, it is our primary aim to help incoming students by offering aid in academic, social, and practical integration. This is mainly provided through cultural and social activities, such as trips to various places within the country, film events, language projects, international food festivals, sports events, and parties.

How to request a mentor?

You can request a mentor by registering on "Papaya (ESN)" (<https://papaya.iter-idea.com/auth>) – but also available on iOS (App Store) and Android (Play Store). Log in with Facebook right after you receive your profile. After registering, the faculty coordinators will be able to choose a mentor for you.

If you have any further question considering the mentor system, please contact ESN ELTE. E-mail: info@esnelte.hu

Students' Union System OF ELTE

University Students' Union (ELTE HÖK)

Not only our University but also the Student's Union has a long tradition. The Union's main role is to represent Hungarian and international students at ELTE in different issues, such as study, allowance and remedy issues. The student organisation ESN ELTE (Erasmus Student Network) and HÖÖK SHMH (Stipendium Hungaricum Mentor Network) will help you as an international student to get familiar with the Hungarian language and culture, the faculties, and student life at ELTE. In principal questions concerning your studies or credits, you can turn to the Students' Union for help, who will give you a helping hand in every situation.

The Students' Union has a two-tier structure: first, the students directly elect the representatives from among themselves, then the faculties delegate members from the representatives to the University Students' Union (ELTE HÖK). ELTE HÖK coordinates the work of the Faculty Students' Unions, represents students in the university management and in the National Students' Union (HÖÖK), and organises the student community life. The Students' Union is an autonomous organisation, which elects the representatives in a democratic way and, all in all, they are the heart of the students' fellowship.

ELTE Dormitory Centre

Accommodation is essential for your studies in Hungary. The University helps you by offering you two services: you can apply to our dormitory places, or you can get housing assistance from the ELTE Housing Office and our partners. With eight dormitories in Budapest and three in Szombathely (along with other specialised facilities), ELTE has the largest dormitory capacity in Hungary.

The dormitories are popular for many reasons. They are not only affordable and comfortable - more than half of the places went through a complete renovation in the past few years -, but the community makes both your everyday life and studies much easier.

The applications are organised by the ELTE Dormitory Centre on a central level. The announcements are available on the website. Any ELTE student, regardless of the level of studies or scholarship, can apply. The applications are for determined periods, like an academic year or the summer break.

Though, fortunately, ELTE can provide hundreds of places to its international students, our capacities are limited, and we cannot accept every applicant. Those, who do not wish to wait for a place on the waiting list, can request assistance from the ELTE Housing Office as well (for more information, see the next chapter).

For more information about the ELTE dormitories and the ongoing and future applications, please, visit the website of the ELTE Dormitory Centre:

<https://www.elte.hu/en/dormitory-centre>

ELTE Housing Office

The housing services are available only in Budapest. Please note that it is a limited market, and thousands of international and Hungarian students are looking for accommodation before the next semester. We firmly advise you to book your place as soon as possible!

Accommodation is essential for your studies in Hungary. The University helps you by offering you two services: you can apply to our dormitory places, or you can get housing assistance from the ELTE Housing Office and our partners. In case you are not interested in the dormitories, or your dormitory application has been rejected, you can ask the help of the ELTE Housing Office and our housing partners to help you find accommodation.

Our partners are apartment houses, private dormitories, real estate agencies and advertising pages with a wide range of offers in every district of Budapest. Regardless of what you are looking for, there is a good chance you will find it with them. Why do we recommend them?

- We are working together since years. Our partners are trustworthy, you do not take any risk.
- They have specialised on international students. Multilingual services (administration, fast maintenance, etc.), supporting the visa application with the necessary documents, and student-friendly attitude are our basic requirements.
- Quality accommodation and reasonable prices. You can choose from flats, apartments, hostels, private dormitories, a room alone or shared with others, in every price range, at every location. They even help you find a roommate.
- Most of them give discount to ELTE students. It matters a lot if your deposit is only one month instead of the standard two or three.

We suggest contacting them directly, but you can ask the ELTE Housing Office for help as well.

You can read more about the ELTE Housing Office and our housing partners here:

Savaria University Centre

Valuable ELTE Diploma – now also available in Szombathely

In February 2017, the integration of Eötvös Loránd University and Savaria University Centre was completed. In the Savaria University Centre, four structural units of ELTE offer courses:

– Berzsenyi Dániel Teacher Training Centre

Full spectrum of teacher training courses from elementary-school teacher's diploma to Master's degree

– Faculty of Informatics

Dual training in mechanical engineering and computer programming: from vocational training to the diploma

– Faculty of Education and Psychology

Courses in sports science and the highly popular humanities courses: psychology, community development

– Faculty of Social Sciences

A wide range of courses in economics: from higher education vocational training through dual training to graduate economics courses

The Savaria University Centre is a bastion for applied knowledge at ELTE, where the results of ELTE's market-leading basic research are utilised for the first time in competitive practice-oriented training courses relevant to society and industry. A strong emphasis is placed on talent management and training teachers who can respond to the challenges of education in the 21st century.

Beyond lexical knowledge, a successful adaptation to a future job market is only guaranteed by the continuous development of skills. Successful adaptation to a future job market will depend on competences beyond lexical knowledge. Collaboration and adaptability, a high level of IT skills, as well as language skills are all necessary for successful career planning. The ELTE Szombathely unit, the Savaria University Centre, places great emphasis on the development of these competences.

Dual courses are essential. They are based on very close and continuously expanding cooperation with partner companies that are key players in the regional economy. Our professional structure is constantly expanding and changing in response to market needs, particularly in the fields of engineering and economics. Our teacher training is in a leading position on the country level, as well. A few years ago, ELTE launched a psychology major in Szombathely, which has been attracting students with unbroken momentum ever since.

Szombathely offers modern education, an inspiring environment, a wide range of international contacts, modernised dormitories, and high amounts of monthly scholarships. We are diverse, but we become diverse through our students.

Culture

EÖTVÖS ART ENSEMBLE

The Eötvös Art Ensemble consists of three cultural groups:

- Béla Bartók University Choir
- University Chamber Orchestra
- Folk Dance Ensemble

The groups consist of non-professional singers, musicians, and dancers, primarily current and former students, as well as lecturers of the University.

The choir was founded in 1948, the orchestra in 1957. The repertoire of the ensemble comprises works by Baroque, Classical, and Romantic masters, as well as contemporary composers. The orchestra regularly plays symphonies and concertos, whereas the choir performs a cappella pieces. However, the choir and the orchestra often perform oratorios together. They also have experience in crossing the borders between classical and popular music.

The Folk Dance Ensemble was established in 1957 and it is led by László Kovács today. The repertoire of the Folk Dance Ensemble includes a wide range of folk dances of the ethnic groups living in the Carpathian Basin. The Ensemble is a prestigious amateur folk dance movement and was qualified Gold Grade at the last nationwide qualification. There are two groups, the beginner-intermediate group and the advanced group.

Nature Reserve and Open-Air Geological Museum of Tata

This special geological nature reserve has been located on a 3.5-acre piece of land on Kálvária Hill in Tata since 1953. It has also functioned as an open-air geological museum since 1991.

The nature reserve displays the geological epochs, the flora and fauna of millions of years, as well as curiosities from botanical, cultural, and mining history.

It plays an important role in the education of Hungarian students of geology, cartography, geophysics, meteorology, environmental studies, and geography.

The University was appointed as the trustee of the unique nature reserve in 1994, and with the financial help of the Environmental Fund it was transformed between 1995 and 1997.

Volunteering for Sustainability and Environmental Protection

ELTE Together for Environmental Consciousness (ELTE Együtt a Környezettudatos Szemléért, abbreviated as ELTE EKSZ) is a volunteer-based institutional sustainability programme that has been operating since 2008. It has been developed and run by students, employees, and volunteers. They provide the necessary conditions for this community, thereby promoting the process of their higher education community becoming sustainable. The programme considers the application of the United Nation's 17 Sustainable Development Goals (UN SDG 17) as its main objective since 2015. The maintenance of the activities is supported by donations, grants (NEA), and volunteer work.

The EKSZ programme provides an opportunity for both individual and community responsibility to gain meaning during the activity and to show an example that both types of activity have a significant raison d'être. The programme is run 100% by volunteers, and the organisers welcome university students and university employees. The mandatory 50 hours of School Community Service can also be accounted for by the environmental protection activities carried out here.

The basic activities of the movement are the following:

- organising and conducting selective waste collection
- developing attitude-forming campaigns
- Animal-Friendly University programme
- gardening
- running a DIY and craft workshop that uses waste as raw material
- The completion of the Environmentally Conscious University programme (including offices, departments, dormitories, etc.) examines the degree of environmental awareness.
- The sustainability programme has achieved significant results through the volunteer system: it operates 1,500 collectors, 100,000 litres of selective waste is collected per week, approximately 35,000 litres of composting capacity is available, but the most significant result is that university citizens can join long-term volunteering, which means 50-200 volunteers per year.

The financial savings are not negligible, either. The savings from the selective collection of waste since 2014 have been 15 million HUF, and the value of the volunteers' work is around 18 million HUF.

Come and be a part of sustainability work and change.

"Be the change you wish to see in the world." (Gandhi)

Hungarian CUISINE

Hungarian food is often regarded as one of the spiciest in Europe.

The most popular spices are paprika, black pepper, and onions. Potatoes are commonly used in many dishes. Hungarians are also famous for using sour cream and other dairy products in their soups, desserts, stuffed pancakes, and pottage dishes. White bread is a popular side dish of the Hungarian kitchen.

A few basic dishes to taste in the country:

Fish Soup – is made of freshwater fish and paprika, served best in the city of Szeged

Goulash Soup – is a soup of meat and vegetables, seasoned with paprika and other spices.

“Pörkölt” – is a delicious, juicy meat stew, prepared from beef/pork, chopped onion, paprika, other spices. You can eat it either with boiled potatoes or noodles

Stuffed cabbage – cabbage leaves stuffed with rice and ground pork with spicy tomato

Somlói dumpling – whipped cream and chocolate with a creamy character

Climate and weather

Hungary has a typical continental climate with hot, dry summers and mildly cold snowy winters. There are four seasons in Hungary: winter (December, January, February), spring (March, April, May), summer (June, July, August), and autumn (September, October, November).

The average annual temperature is 9.7 °C. The average temperature in the summer is 23 to 28 °C and temperature can climb up to 38 °C on the hottest days in July-August. The average temperature in the winter is -7 to -3 °C and it can drop below -10 °C on the coldest days. Generally, the weather is the warmest from May to September.

Geography

Hungary is situated in the Carpathian Basin. Its two longest rivers are called Danube and Tisza, which divide Hungary into three parts, so it is worth to visit the banks of these too. Hungary's highest point is the mountain Kékes (1,015 metres) located in the Mátra mountain range. Two-thirds of Hungary's geographic area are less than 200 metres above sea level. The lowest point is 77 metres above sea level, which lies near Szeged.

Lake Balaton is the largest lake in Central Europe, sometimes referred to as the 'Hungarian Sea'. It is 78 km long and between 3-14 km wide. It is one of the biggest tourist attractions of the country, many Hungarians spend the summer holiday in one of the towns by the lake.

Did you KNOW?

Beware! Vampires ahead!

Although Vlad the Impaler (1431 -1476), more commonly known as Dracula, was born in the Kingdom of Hungary, he was in fact of Romanian origin. He was also imprisoned in the castles of Visegrád and Buda. Well, not for sucking blood, but for high treason. Interestingly, Hungarian actor Béla Lugosi became the most famous Dracula on the silver screen in the first half of the 20th century, whose character is known for his terribly thick Hungarian accent and his line "I will suck your blood!"

Hungarian language

The official language of Hungary is Hungarian and it is one of the official languages of the European Union. Hungarians call their language "Magyar". It is a member of the Finno-Ugric language family and it is not related to any of the languages in other surrounding countries. It might seem strange, but Hungarians tend to attach great importance to the uniqueness of their language, and they are even proud of it. Hungarian can be considered a weirdo among European languages, primarily due to the fact that it does not belong to the Indo-European language family to which most other European languages do. Oh, and as for the title: Hungarian is an agglutinative language, i.e. endings are attached to words in a prescribed order – in layman's terms, we love long word monsters. Otherwise, Hungarian is rather politically correct. In fact, it does not know grammatical gender – there's no difference between his ball and her ball. It is a less known fact, but Hungarian also loaned some words to the English language: coach (kocsi), hussar (huszár), itsy-bitsy (ici-pici), sabre (szablya).

Some inventions

If you ask a Hungarian to mention some Hungarian inventions, they will give you a list that includes basically everything that is of any importance in the world, including computers and helicopters. Well, there is always some truth to these, but they tend to exaggerate. Here are some actual Hungarian inventions and discoveries though: ballpoint pen (László Bíró), Rubik's Cube (Ernő Rubik), holography (Dénes Gábor), noiseless match (János Irinyi), the concept of nuclear chain reaction (Leó Szilárd), the theory of the hydrogen bomb (Ede Teller), electric motor (Ányos Jedlik), cure for puerperal fever (Ignác Semmelweis), vitamin C, discovering the components and reactions of the citric acid cycle (Albert Szent-Györgyi), mRNA technology in immunology and therapies (Katalin Karikó).

Hungary, ELTE, and the Olympic Games

Strangely enough for a small country like Hungary, Hungarians are ranked number ten in the All-Time Olympic Games medal table. We are very proud that six ELTE students participated in the 2016 Rio Olympic Games. One of them, Boglárka Kapás swimmer, won a bronze medal on the Women's 800m Freestyle. Áron Szilágyi, became the fifth fencer in the history of modern Olympic Games to win back-to-back individual gold medals since 1896. Csaba Burján, a student of ELTE Faculty of Science, also became an Olympic champion when he won a gold medal of Speed Skating in the 2018 Winter Olympics.

✓ Hungarian names

In Hungary, similarly to China, Japan, and Korea, the so-called Eastern name order (family name followed by given name) is used. Interestingly, while Japanese and Hungarian names are usually reversed when individuals having such names are mentioned in Western countries (cf. Puskás Ferenc > Ferenc Puskás), Chinese and Korean names, as well as names of historical Japanese figures are usually left in the Eastern order (e.g. Mao Zedong).

Hungarians also celebrate name days. Each given name is assigned to one or more days in the calendar. People usually give some minor gifts, like flowers or dessert to each other on this occasion.

✓ DA DA DA! Da da da da da dadada dadada da da da da da dada!

Should you have not recognised the quoted "lyrics" in the title, we'll help you: it is the fanfare of the major American film studio 20th Century Fox. It was founded by William Fox (born as Vilmos Fried in Tolcsva, Hungary), a Hungarian Jew. Adolph Zukor, founder of Paramount Pictures, and Michael Curtiz, Hungarian film director are other two other founders of Hollywood filmmaking. Further Hungarian-born figures that were present at the birth of Hollywood are Béla Lugosi actor and George Cukor film director.

Recently, it seems Hungarian films have good series in the film award seasons. In 2016, László Nemes Jeles with his debut feature film, "Son of Saul" ("Saul fia" in Hungarian) won the Academy Award for Best Foreign Language Film. In the next year, Kristóf Deák's film "Sing" ("Mindenki" in Hungarian) won the 2017 Academy Award for "Best Live Action Short Film". "On Body and Soul", written and directed by Ildikó Enyedi, was selected as the Hungarian entry for the Best Foreign Language Film and was nominated for the Oscar at the 90th Academy Awards.

✓ The Renaissance of Hungarian Wine-making

If you are from a country that has no wine-making traditions, you'll be surely surprised that you can purchase good quality bottled wines from as little as 1,500 HUF. Hungary's probably most internationally known wine is the white dessert wine Tokaji, but there are many more wine regions in the country, such as Badacsony, Eger, Szekszárd, and Villány. "Fröccs" (spritzer), a mixture of wine and soda water, has recently become popular again. It is a true Hungarian speciality. Depending on the portion of the wine and soda water, there are various types of "fröccs" drinks. The name of the "fröccs" reflects the portion of wine.

Here are some examples:

"Kisfröccs": 1 dl wine + 1 dl soda water

"Nagyfröccs": 2 dl wine + 1 dl soda water

"Hosszúlépés": 1 dl wine + 2 dl soda water

"Házmester": 3 dl wine + 2 dl soda water

"Viceházmester": 2 dl wine + 3 dl soda water

Living in Budapest

Famous sights IN BUDAPEST

-  Buda Castle Hill

The Castle Hill, which houses the Royal Palace, the Fisherman's Bastion, and Matthias Church, is easily visible from everywhere in Budapest. Exploring beautiful buildings and cobblestone streets in the Castle District can take an entire day, but it is time well spent. The Royal Palace, rebuilt in Neoclassical style in the place of the once-famous medieval palace, is home to the Hungarian National Gallery, the Budapest History Museum, and the National Széchenyi Library. The Fisherman's Bastion is one of the most fascinating sights on the Castle Hill. Although fishermen from Watertown reputedly defended this part of the city during the Middle Ages, the Fisherman's Bastion was built in the 1890s for purely decorative purposes.
-  Chain Bridge (Lánchíd)

The Chain Bridge was the first bridge to permanently connect Buda and Pest. At the time of its completion, the Chain Bridge was considered to be one of the wonders of the world. Crossing the bridge is just a short walk, and no matter which direction you go, the view is beautiful.
-  Opera House (Operaház)

The Opera House is not only one of the most significant art monuments of Budapest, but also the symbol of the Hungarian operatic tradition. Designed by Miklós Ybl, a major figure of the 19th century Hungarian architecture, the construction lived up to the highest expectations. Ornamentation included paintings and sculptures by the leading figures of contemporary Hungarian art: Károly Lotz, Bertalan Székely, Mór Than, and Alajos Stróbl. Many renowned artists were guests here, including Gustav Mahler, the composer who directed the institution from 1887 to 1891 and founded the international prestige of the institution.
-  Heroes' Square (Hősök tere) and City Park (Városliget)

Heroes' Square is the largest and most impressive square in the city. The Millennium Monument standing in the middle of the square was erected in 1896 to commemorate the 1000th anniversary of the Hungarians' arrival to the Carpathian Basin. The Museum of Fine Arts (Szépművészeti Múzeum) is located on the northern side of the square. The Hall of Art, an exhibition hall for contemporary art, is on the southern side. The City Park, which is just behind the square, provides a refreshing escape from the bustle of the city. The 1896 Millennium Celebrations took place here, leaving many attractions behind. Vajdahunyad Castle was built to demonstrate various architectural styles of Hungary, and has Romanesque, Gothic, Renaissance, and Baroque parts. There is a boating lake next to the castle, which is turned into an ice skating rink in winter.

- ✓ Margaret Island (Margit-sziget)
Margaret Island now serves as a recreational park in the middle of the Danube River. It is a great place to take a walk, swim a few laps or go for a run. During summer months, bicycles are also available for rent. Since vehicles are prohibited, the island is a fantastic escape from the city's traffic.
- ✓ Central Market Hall (Központi Vásárcsarnok)
The spectacular Central Market Hall is a good place to buy Hungarian products. You can also stop by for a quick bite of traditional Hungarian food when touring the city. Shop with the locals for meat, cheese, fruits, vegetables, and pastries.
- ✓ Andrassy Avenue (Andrassy út)
This elegant avenue, recognised as a World Heritage Site, is often referred to as the Champs-Élysées of Budapest. It is also called a cultural avenue, as the Opera House, the best theatres in the Liszt Ferenc Academy of Music, many museums and, theatres are located on the avenue or nearby.
- ✓ Váci Street and Vörösmarty Square (Váci utca and Vörösmarty tér)
Váci Street is perhaps the most famous street in Budapest. It runs from Vörösmarty Square to the Central Market Hall and, features a large number of restaurants, shops, and cafés. Vörösmarty Square, located at the heart of Budapest, is always busy. This is where the famous Gerbeaud Café, as well as one of the terminuses of the Millennium Underground, can be found.
- ✓ The Hungarian National Assembly (the House of Parliament) (Országház or Parlament)
The Parliament building, a magnificent example of Neo-Gothic architecture, is just over 100 years old. It is the third largest Parliament building in the world and also home to the Hungarian Crown Jewels. Guided tours start from the Visitor Centre, located next to the northern façade of the building open daily from 8 a.m. to 4 or 6 p.m., depending on the season. Visits to the House of Parliament are restricted when the National Assembly holds its plenary sessions.

For further information, visit the website of the Hungarian Tourism Agency (gotohungary.com) or one of Tourinform's offices (e.g. Tourinform Center close to Deák Ferenc Square, address: 1052 Budapest, Sütő utca 2), where you can pick up free brochures, city maps, and guidebooks.

Road signs conform to continental standards. It is mandatory to wear seatbelts both in the front and back seats, and no mobile phones are allowed while the vehicles are in motion. Getting around IN BUDAPEST

Budapest has an efficient, diverse, and low-cost network of transportation, including bus, subway, trolleybus, tram, suburban railway (HÉV), and boat services. The Centre for Budapest Transport (Budapesti Közlekedési Központ, BKK) is responsible for the main transport services in Budapest (including the bus, tram, subway, suburban railway, and trolleybus networks) in an integrated system. BKK Customer Service Offices can be found in and around Budapest Airport, major train and subway, and the city centre.

Transportation tickets and passes

If you want to use public transportation, keep in mind that you must have a valid ticket or pass. Tickets are available all around the city at subway stations, tram stations or street kiosks. Once you have a ticket or pass, you can use it on the whole network, regardless of the service. Exceptions are: Danube public boat services at weekends, the Buda chairlift, and the Castle Hill Funicular services. Note that Budapest Passes (such as the BKK Monthly Student Pass) are only valid within the administrative borders of Budapest Capital; you might need to purchase additional tickets if you intend to travel to neighbouring municipalities using the bus or suburban railway services. On the other hand, Budapest Passes are valid on the lines of service providers other than BKK within the borders of Budapest (MÁV, Volán), so you can use some train or regional bus services in Budapest. As for single tickets, you need to validate a new ticket for each journey. If you are in hurry, single tickets are available from the bus/tram driver for a higher price. You can also download the "Közlekedési Mobiljegy" app with which you can easily purchase your monthly pass (with a credit card). The app has an English menu and you can open the pass on your phone when needed.

General cost of living

Hungary is considered to be an affordable country compared with Western Europe. Still, please be conscious about your expenditure, because living in Budapest is getting more and more expensive. Especially on the main tourist sites, the city offers a huge variety of bars, restaurants, and shops at a higher price. You just need to take a short walk from the centre, and you will find places with more reasonable prices. Considering the different expenditures, you can calculate with the following prices (1 EUR = approx. 400 HUF June, 2022).

Banking in HUNGARY

If you study at ELTE with a Hungarian governmental scholarship (e.g. Stipendium Hungaricum), you are required to open a Hungarian bank account where your scholarship will be transferred.

You are free to choose any bank that will accept your application. That is a private business decision for the bank. Before opening a bank account, the bank needs to get to know its potential clients. This may require more due diligence in assessing bank account requests from non-residents. Some banks may, therefore, have a policy not to accept non-resident costumers.

To open a bank account, you must present your passport and another identification document (such as driver's license, tax card, etc.). If you are a non-EEA student, it is usually necessary to have a valid residence permit and address card open a bank account, although some banks allow foreigners to open an account on presentation of a passport. In Hungary, banks are typically open on weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Banks are not open on Saturdays except some branches in shopping centres.

If you need help in opening a bank account, you can ask your mentor to assist you.

Automatic teller machines (ATMs)

ATMs can be found all over Hungary and Budapest. Hungarian banks charge a commission on the use of ATMs. Note that higher fees might apply for using an ATM that is not operated by the bank that issued your bank card.

You do not need to worry about exchanging Hungarian Forint before your arrival and carrying cash. ATM machines are widely available in major cities, and they accept Visa and Mastercard debit cards.

Paying taxes in Hungary

If you study at ELTE with a Hungarian governmental scholarship (e.g. Stipendium Hungaricum), you are required to apply for a Tax Card after your arrival in Hungary. You need to request a Tax Card in person at the National Tax and Customs Administration (Nemzeti Adó- és Vámhivatal). First application for a Tax Card is free of charge. You are required to take with you your passport. You need to pay taxes if you have a job in Hungary or you receive any other income from anyone in Hungary.

Postal and telephone services

Magyar Posta (Hungarian Post) is the postal administration of Hungary. Besides normal mail delivery, Magyar Posta also offers logistics, banking, and marketing services.

Typically, you can post a letter at a post office, or you can just throw it with valid stamps on it into a postbox in the street. You can easily find post offices in Budapest and the main post offices are usually open until 8 p.m. As for post offices, always check it on the postbox when they empty the box.

The country code for Hungary is 36. Calls to international destinations are in the format 00 + country code + number. On mobile phones, + can be used instead of 00.

Mobile phone use is very widespread in Hungary. There are three main service providers in Hungary: T-mobile, Yettel, and Vodafone. There is no major difference in the mobile phone tariffs, but minute fees within the network are typically cheaper, so you might want to get the same provider that your friends use. You can either prepay for the phone usage or purchase a monthly payment.

At the beginning of each semester, ESN ELTE and the SH mentoring network helps new international students with getting a Hungarian SIM card shortly after their arrival.

Shopping

There are plenty of possibilities to do the shopping in Budapest. Most stores are open from Monday till Saturday between 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. and, on Sunday between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. Shopping centres have longer opening hours from Monday till Sunday between 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. On public holidays, all shops are closed. You can find the following supermarket chains in Hungary: Spar, Tesco, Lidl, Aldi, CBA, Coop.

Food markets (like Central Market Hall) are the best places if you want to buy some fresh fruit or vegetables at a reasonable price. They are open from Monday till Saturday between 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Many locals do their shopping there.

One of the main and most famous shopping areas in Budapest is Váci street. It is a shopping promenade, which runs from Vámház körút (Central Market Hall) to Vörösmarty square featuring a large number of fashionable shops, restaurants, and cafés. Andrassy Avenue can offer another great shopping experience if you have a larger budget. It is a place where famous designer shops (like Gucci, Armani, Louis Vuitton, Dolce & Gabbana) can be found.

If you want some unique gifts, there are numerous art shops in the city centre. Budapest has an expanding design community. Király Street, also known as the Design Street in Budapest, is filled with interior design and furniture stores, funky boutiques, and modern art galleries.

Cultural programmes in Budapest

Budapest has a rich and varied cultural life. We have collected the most important current places of Hungarian culture for you.

Hungarians like the cinema. Budapest is full of various options to watch a good movie. Stay connected and join the ELTE ONLINE ALUMNI SYSTEM

(<https://www.alumni.elte.hu/>)

Did you know that you have the possibility to join the growing international alumni community at ELTE?

All students who spend at least one study semester at ELTE (including exchange students and guest students) can join the ELTE alumni community after they graduate at their home university.

Five reasons to pre-register and register for the ELTE alumni community:

Once you graduate, you will be able to..

1. use ELTE Online Alumni System (<https://www.alumni.elte.hu/>),
2. enjoy the ELTE Alumni Card discounts,
3. reconnect with your schoolmates and friends from ELTE,
4. read about ELTE alumni community events,
5. become part of an ELITE community.

ELTE International Alumni Network

Former international students can join the ELTE International Alumni Network. The ELTE International Alumni Chapter organises events for and with international alumni. Also, discounts on various university facilities and events are available for all international alumni.

Membership is free of charge. Once you apply, you will be able to enjoy the benefits that the Alumni Network has to offer. Besides our online courses and events, our plan is to organise local events in various countries. These regional events will offer international alumni of ELTE the opportunity to connect with other Network members, revive their memories of ELTE, and cherish their relationship with the university.

If you are looking for new opportunities or you would like to meet old friends, the ELTE Alumni Network is your place.
