Evaluation

Submitted applications are evaluated by a professional board, stood up by the Institute/Department.

The evaluation criteria are published in the call. The student might be required to participate at a personal interview after receiving the written evaluation.

General criteria of the evaluation (the list is not in a priority order, there might be other aspects as well according to differing Faculty regulations):

- Language proficiency at the study field;
- Academic achievement;
- Professional awareness;
- Academic excellence or other significant professional achievement;
- Participation in Student Union activities or others at related organizations;
- Participation in a Student Mentor/Buddy System, supporting students.

Based on the above points, the Institutes/Departments nominate students to the Erasmus Board (for study tours, internships and financial grants).

Those students who have never participated in the Erasmus+ Programme have priority during the evaluation process.

Those students, who were nominated by the host university but were not granted financial support by the Erasmus Board, might also travel to participate in the Erasmus programme, but they need to fully cover their costs. These students are named “label students”. Thanks to this status, students are free from any payment at the host university, i.e. label students do not need to pay tuition fee and any costs of registration, exams, laboratory and library.

The full list of the accepted students will be approved by the Students and Staff Mobility Committee expectedly in November 2019. Supported students will be informed via Neptun message not later than 4 weeks after the Committee’s decision.

All the applications for internships submitted later will be approved by Students and Staff Mobility Committee after November 2019.

Should you have any questions regarding your application, please feel free to contact your Faculty/Institute/Department Coordinator.
